

New round for the FiBL – Organic inputs list 2018

As of now, trade products can be registered for the “Inputs list for organic agriculture in Germany 2018”.

(Frankfurt / Main, June 2nd, 2017) The Organic inputs list assists organic farmers, consultants and control authorities in their work, for all listed trade products are verified by experts of the Research Institute of Organic Agriculture regarding their suitability for the use in organic farming. Thereby, the list provides clarity, which input products may be used in organic farming in Germany.

Manufacturers and distributors of input products for organic agriculture can now register their products on www.betriebsmittelliste.de/en with FiBL Projekte GmbH for verification. The deadline for the printed version of the list is July 30th, 2017.

The registered products will further be examined – without additional costs for the applicants – regarding their conformity to the Regulations of organic associations, such as Demeter, Demeter International, ECOVIN, Gaea and Naturland. The conformity will be displayed with the online product search.

The website www.betriebsmittelliste.de/en in English is available since 2016. New: Products can be registered here exclusively for the EU Inputs list (usability in accordance to the EU-Regulations on organic farming) or for the Inputs list of Demeter International. Application forms in English are available as well. Please find further information on www.betriebsmittelliste.de/en.

Products can be registered from the areas fertilisation, plant protection, animal feed, cleaning- and disinfection agents and products for udder care and hygiene, products for the control of stable flies and ectoparasites, products for apiculture and products for the manufacturing of organic wine.
